

One of Scotland's largest local Authorities orders Safecom's InfoAware LMS.

Renfrewshire Council is to use Safecom's InfoAware LMS for council-wide Information Security training.

Cambridge, UK, 7 June 2007. Safecom, the developer of the popular InfoAware LMS – Learning Management System, today announced that Renfrewshire Council has successfully rolled out its site-wide InfoAware LMS licence.

Renfrewshire Council's Finance and IT department is responsible for all aspects of IT Services. They decided to select InfoAware as the LMS of choice for the whole authority. The video training modules purchased will be used to train staff at all levels throughout the council. In addition the LMS module is set to be used to track staff knowledge and understanding of training materials and to provide a full audit trail of who has successfully completed the training.

Rob Leitch, Renfrewshire's Information Security Officer, stated: "We felt that InfoAware offered the best balance between affordability and functionality in terms of delivering a security awareness CBT package to all Council staff.

The ability to customise the material to suit our particular environment was a welcome benefit that we readily took advantage of."

Keith Allen, Safecom's Business Development Manager, added "We Welcome Renfrewshire to the ever growing number of Local Authorities and Public Bodies using InofAware LMS. They are a key Scottish user and are very significant in being one of the largest and most diverse Local Authorities in the country. We are extremely pleased that they recognised and value the key strengths we have built into our InfoSec training package and hope that this is the start of a long-standing and productive relationship".

In recent months Safecom's has announced Local Authority sales of InfoAware LMS to the following Scottish Local Authority customers: Renfrewshire Council, Perth & Kinross Council, East Lothian Council and East Renfrewshire Council.
